(Letter of Reference)

This is to state that Shreyas Das, a student of AECS Magnolia Maaruti Public School, Science stream (Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics & Computer Science, academic Year 2019 ~ 21), is known to me for more than two years as a student under my responsibilities in computer science subject for both theory and practical/lab works in the said institution.

Shreyas has been a very technology-savvy student in matters relating to problem solving and logical thinking. He has shown profound scientific temper and has excelled in the areas of science, mathematics and computer sciences. Apart from usual works of computer programming (required for academic matters), he was capable of proactively detecting and fixing hardware and system related issues in the computer science lab and has always been a technical help for his classmates within and outside his project group.

I am sure and confident that he can unmistakably be chosen for any responsibilities that requires scientific know-how and in-depth technical abilities and interest.
